

Friday 9th December

This week has been a sparkly, glittery kind of week in Webburn. The girls have enjoyed making and creating and the good news is that in between play rehearsals next week there will be more of the same. We will also be making decorations for our school Christmas tree which will be displayed up in the church next weekend. Some of their creations will be for sale at the market in Widecombe this Saturday where you can also see their gorgeous snowmen paintings on display.

We have our trip on Wednesday which we are all looking forward to. Remember to look at the newsletter for information about collection times that day. We will be preparing the children for the trip to ensure they know what to expect. If you have a Peter Pan story book at home why not have a look at it over the next few days and discuss the characters in it.

Friday we look forward to eating Mandy's yummy Christmas dinner. A quick heads up about the church service a week on Tuesday where they will be taking part in the nativity. We will start at the front of the church but as the story is told we will be walking to the back of the church and creating the nativity scene just in front of the font. I am hoping to be able to reserve the seats closest to this area for Webburn parents so you get a good view.
